

LET THERE BE PEACE CANDLELIGHT WALK & GATHERING

Friday, September 22, 2006 starting at 9:00 p.m.

Sponsored by Peace of the World International in collaboration with The African Women Economic Consortium

You are invited to participate in the LET THERE BE PEACE CANDLELIGHT WALK & GATHERING, to be held Friday, September 22, 2006 starting at 9:00 p.m. from Wayne State University Student Welcome Center on Woodward (corner of Warren) downtown Detroit, Michigan.

The candlelight walk is to remind us that we are each a light in this world for peace that can inspire others. As all the lights join together and begin to move, they will create a flowing luminance that can guide others to Peace and Harmony. Gaura (master drummer) will guide the procession from beginning to end.

At the ending point of the walk (First Unitarian Universalist Church on Cass Ave.), there will be song and dance, poetry and art all focused on bringing together those who love and honor peace.

True to its tradition, Peace of the World International's focus is on Building Peace for the World's Children and with the collaboration of the African Women Economic Consortium, will have children as the primary speakers and performers at the Gathering. Present will be Iyawo Dance Theater and others. Surely you are welcome to bring children to participate.

Peace of the World International and the African Women Economic Consortium sends this call to any and all individuals and organizations that see Peace as the ultimate instrument for saving all the children of the world. If you have children who are speakers or performers, call and register them.

Those individuals and organizations who register for the walk prior to September 12, 2007 can receive a commemorative "Let There Be Peace Walk & Gathering" T-shirt. Register at <http://www.peaceowi.org/candlelight.html>. You may also telephone (517) 745-0634 or (313) 942-5467 for registration information.

On the same date, September 22, this walk is also being conducted by sister organizations of Peace of the World International in Pakistan and India. See details at the website.

The African Women Economic Consortium (a 501(c)3 organization) and collaborative entity for this and other events with Peace of the World International, will provide a letter to contributing organizations and individuals for tax deductible contributions if requested .
